CLOSER LOOK: There is a chance of rain Saturday in South Florida - which wouldn't hurt this fella; he splashed his way to a pair of big wins in NY last year before bombing when shipped across country for the BC; he even beat Upstart, winner of the Holy Bull and DQed from first in the FOY; Pletcher gets a lot of new tops with 3YO's at GP in the winter; only the draw is a disadvantage; it may force Castellano to send him - even though there is plenty of speed to his outside; likely favorite.

Doubt this one is up to this standard; he ran third in an ungraded stake in his only attempt in stakes company, and Wilkes shipped him to Tampa to clear the N1X condition for a skimpy purse; should get a hot pace to aid his rally but unlikely to do more than pass tired runners.

First or second in three starts with his only losses behind Carpe Diem and Barbados - two quality colts; he, like Daredevil, is proven on an off track if it rains Saturday; capable of running Moss pace figures in the 92-94 range and he's fresh; so he figures to come out running and put immediate pressure on the rail-breaking Daredevil.

Even if one envisions a pace meltdown here, it is tough to picture him getting up to win; his one stakes win came against Florida Stallion runners and he won that race by just a neck with a 66 Beyer; top Beyer is well below par at a 72; no thanks.

Although the Texas Glitter didn't result in a flashy number, impressed the way he did it - rating off the speed; that gives Rosario more confidence in rating him here if necessary - given that 3/4 others in here want to go to the lead; burned up in a hot pace in the BC Juvenile but otherwise perfect; contender.

That was a good looking debut; he pressing a solid pace and gradually made headway to score; quite a class hike for him here, though; he is stretching out 3/16ths of a mile in distance and also taking on graded stakes horses; that's a lot to ask of a horse with one race; pass.
