CLOSER LOOK: She has done some good things since she won her maiden for $16K claiming by 18 lengths; a bargain buy for sure, she was recently at Thistledown where she pushed a 1 to 5 shot to the limit; this is a big test for her first Polytrack run and as she likes to be a part of the pace, it is likely you will see her go to the front from this inside post; interestingly, she was probably a paddock mate of Season Ticket as a baby and that is just one of many tough rivals; outsider.

One of 2 in the race for Hall of Fame trainer Attfield and she handled her first 2-turn assignment well; it was a workmanlike score over modest rivals but her confidence is high; like some others in her barn, she had a touch of the virus but she came back with a bullet breeze from the gate recent;y; Garcia will stay with London Tower; minor share.

The Selene was her first Polytrack attempt and she raced against open company and handled herself well; she needs a bit more oomph in the stretch run if she is going to get it done but Husbands is sticking with her; she should enjoy the added distance; top three player.

Comes back in 2 weeks after her strong rally in the Lady Angela for Ontario-sired fillies; she reeled in River Maid and Pohdi Pohdi in the last few yards under Garcia but he will stick with London Tower; the distance and quick return to action are hurdles; taking others.

Third start after the layoff for this gal who was one of the better runners of last season in her division; she had a big effort with a rail rally in the Star Shoot and then some traffic trouble was costly last time; she will love the stretch-out in distance and she has had a couple of big workout times for 6 furlongs; very dangerous.

Probable favourite is a tall, leggy gal with attitude and she was a monster in her comeback race; she had a slow start but inhaled her rivals through the stretch run and note that Galina Point came out of the race to win a stakes race; she had a fast work in company on May 17 on a day when the track was very fast and she recently prepped on turf to get a change in scenery; coming into this fresh and ready; big shot.

Blinkers will be on this well bred, light grey gal who was just behind a pair of American-bred fillies in the Selene; trainer Attfield feels she needs just a touch more focus and with her new equipment on, she had a big workout time on June 4; may have a big move forward so she is one to consider.

She's a fighter and while she was scratched at the gate for what was supposed to be her season debut earlier in May, she had no trouble last time getting her win; she deserves a shot for the big money but the pace scenario at the longer distance will be tougher; looking at others.

May be too soon to give up on her yet since she was so good as a 2yo, especially with that 3rd place finisher against the boys in the Coronation; she had a terrible trip in her season debut when she was checked and then last time she reared up at the start and then had more traffic trouble; she gets blinkers; price play for the same owner and trainer who won last year's Oaks. ~Jennifer Morrison
